

For those pleasant 'extras' in retirement without spending your capital

When your retirement comes, you will find that EXTRA income is a wonderful boon. That is exactly what National Savings Certificates can do for you. By planned encashment of Certificates over a number of years you can, in effect, draw the Income Tax free interest that your Certificates earn, whilst keeping your capital intact. For instance, the holding of £525. i.e. 700 Certificates (9th issue) bought over a period could give you an Income Tax free income of up to £18.76 per annum, or twice as much if your wife also has a similar holding—without diminishing your savings.
