

Great news! Our school subscribes to eLibrary, the easy-to-use, Internet-based teaching and learning solution for students and teachers. Best of all, it's available at school or from home 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

eLibrary offers a broad range of full-text and multimedia content that supports student information needs. Teachers can use it for lesson planning, in-class activities, library work, and student assignments via the integrated BookCart tool. It's also a powerful homework helper and all-in-one research tool.

What can you and your child do?

Access Thousands of Sources: Dive into a broad range of safe, ad-free content, from full-text newspapers and magazines to up-to-date news images, multimedia, and more

Increase Learning with Visuals: Use thousands of graphics, maps, audio/video clips to enliven learning with visual reports and presentations

How will eLibrary help our teachers and librarians?

Save Time for Learning: One search yields up to 8 different quality media types so students can spend more time learning and less time searching

Keep Current: Print the most current articles from thousands of newspaper and magazine for classroom discussions and student activities

Create One-Step Lesson Plans: Use the BookCart tool to collect the best eLibrary resources on a topic and also include all the information that students will need to complete assignments

Integrate Technology and 21st Century Skills: Research assignments teach the essential skills that students will use for a lifetime
